

Here is an email I sent to Sen. Bill Nelson on IMMIGRATION, and this may be helpful for you, Rep. Ross:

"Sen. Nelson, I'm not an expert on Immigration, but I turn to the past to see "what worked" then >>Please consider this example: How ancient ISRAEL (in the Old Testament Bible) addressed immigration: I say this because they did allow people to immigrate, but it was not a cake-walk: They were balanced in their immigration standards, as I read the 1st five books on the Old Testament. (They also 'UNimmigrated' their own CITIZENS - e.g., kicked them OUT -when said citizens broke the law in a serious manner. Now that is radical, but it kept troublemakers from causing additional trouble.

That said, I saw the recent news items: Sen. Rubio, your colleague, seems, to be balanced in his approach, so I have no feedback or thoughts other than my suggestion above, except to confer with him -and review what ancient ISRAEL did as recorded in the Bible. (You do read the Bible, don't you?)

QUESTION: Has anyone else considered looking at how the JEWISH nation addressed immigration, as described in the first 5 books of the Bible?? << (Their method seems to have worked --unless you wanna 2nd-guess MOSES and GOD ALMIGHTY... not.)
5 minutes ago · Edited · Unlike · 1"

Unlike · May 2 at 10:15am

You like this.

Gordon Wayne Watts I feel bad because I can't make a more specific suggestion to solve this problem, but I vividly recall reading plenty of examples in the Old Testament of how "God's People" dealt with potential newcomers to become citizens: NOTE: While I am glad that there are many Judeo-Christians here, including Rep. DENNIS ROSS, myself, and many others, nonetheless, I am not trying to force my religion on anyone -- I simply think that ISRAEL, MOSES, and GOD ALMIGHTY can be trusted to address immigration right -- and, yes, they did address in in the Old Testament.

DEFINITIONS: "But what does "Judeo-Christian" mean? We need to know. Along with the belief in liberty — as opposed to, for example, the European belief in equality, the Muslim belief in theocracy, and the Eastern belief in social conformity — Judeo-Christian values are what distinguish America from all other countries. That is why American coins feature these two messages: "In G-d we trust" and "Liberty." " http://www.jewishworldreview.com/0304/prager_2004_03_30_04.php3 This Jewish website spells God's name/title as "G-d" out of respect, since they do not feel it proper to spell a name with the vowels in a way that can be spoken.

I am a Christian, not a Jew, but I agree with their showing of respect for God Almighty.

According to Wikipedia, "Judeo-Christian or Judaeo-Christian (also Abrahamism) is a term used in a historical sense, especially in the United States, to refer to the connections between the precursors of Christianity and Rabbinic Judaism in the Second Temple period." >> <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Judeo-Christian> // I also agree with this definition.

WHAT DOES "JUDEO-CHRISTIAN" MEAN?

www.jewishworldreview.com

<http://www.jewishworldreview.com/> | But what does "Judeo-Christian" mean? We need to know. Along with the belief in liberty □ as opposed to, for example, the European belief in equality, the Muslim belief in theocracy, and the Eastern belief in social conformity □ Judeo-Christian values are what dist...

May 2 at 7:42pm · Edited · Unlike · 1 · Remove Preview